

Could You Be An Usdaw Union Learning Rep?

Are you interested in learning?

Do you have good listening and communication skills?

Would you like to help other people get back into learning?

Are you an Usdaw member?

.....then there's a role for you in Usdaw

Union Learning Representative

Union Learning Reps are a new type of trade union activist that have legal rights similar to those of other union reps. They work through the union to help members get access to learning opportunities and enable them to brush up or learn new skills.

Union Learning Reps make things happen!

Usdaw has over 500 Union Learning Reps. Every year they help over 2500 members get back into learning. You can too.

Full range of training and support will be given to all Union Learning Reps. No previous union experience is necessary.

For more information about becoming an
Usdaw Union Learning Rep contact: